

The Code Card Project

This document is a compilation of listings of local code cards issued to telephone subscribers by the Post Office (and later by British Telecom). Originally members of the Telecommunications Heritage Group have provided the source material. Recently, contributions have been gratefully received from non-members. Many of the cards have been transcribed using optical character recognition, therefore accuracy is not guaranteed.

The lists include a number of partial data sets from sources which were incomplete i.e. where only a portion of a dialling code card was available. This inclusion will allow local dialling codes for other locations to be deduced by cross-referencing data with complete data sets for adjacent areas where available.

DCC = Dial Code Card, DIB = Dialling Information Booklet, DRY = Directory, PCO = Public Call Office Notice

“For an exchange marked *, dial the code, wait for the operator to answer and ask for the number you require”

High Flatts and Kirkburton

Although the 1980 Bradford Area Alphabetical Directory shows High Flatts three figure numbers and Kirkburton four figure numbers, these have now been changed to Huddersfield six figure numbers. High Flatts numbers have been prefixed by 606, Kirkburton numbers by 60. A code is no longer required when dialling these numbers.

[NB Several of the codes appear to be odd, In 1981 Batley, Dewsbury, Heckmondwike and Mirfield were part fo the Wakefield linked numbering scheme and had 6-fig numbers 4xx xxx and so should have had the local code 98. The routing probably used 9 plus the first 2 digits of the subscriber's number and went direct to third selectors in the distant exchange. The handwritten correction for Huddersfield wrong. In 1981 Brighouse had the STD code 0484, the same as Huddersfield, so the original 'dial number only' is correct.]

Explanatory Note:

Edinburgh operated a mixed Director/ Non-Director arrangement using a Siemens No 16 switch (S16) as a central tandem. Director numbers were 7-digits as usual: non-Director numbers were 5-digits. The numbering scheme was cunningly arranged to allow seamless dialing between the Director and non-Director numbers.

As I recall, these amendments by me were because codes were changed whilst the code book was still in use. Cleckheaton was certainly absorbed into the Bradford Inked numbering scheme, and Knottingley (and possibly Castleford at the same time) into the Pontefract group including Hemsworth and South Elmsall, all now 01977 - Donald Bunce
