The Ericofon 700 by Thorn-Ericsson

The Ericofon 700 is the world's first solid-state, one-piece telephone.

It's compact, light and distinctive in design with a pleasant electronic calling-tone.

This new telephone, with its unique positioning of press-buttons under the base, can be installed as a main telephone or, in most home situations, as an extension. Available in three colours: white, green or brown, the Ericofon 700 will blend in with most room settings and colour schemes.

The Ericofon 700, manufactured by Thorn-Ericsson Telecommunications (Sales) Ltd., is installed and maintained by British Telecom.
